

MY KIND OF weekend

POETRY, ART & MORE

HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY. CT RECOMMENDS...

FOOD IS COMING

With Game of Thrones fever at an all-time high, a food delivery service is getting in on the action. 30 of Talabat's riders are channeling their inner GoT characters this month by dressing up as characters from the show. If you see one of the dressed-up delivery people in Dubai or Abu Dhabi, take a snap of them and post it with Talabat's tag and #SnapTheThrone. You could win Dh3,000 food credit. Each rider will also receive Dh5 for every picture of them posted. Makes sense for Iftar!

DOLL WORKSHOP
Interested in the creative field? Join artist Alsha Al Blooshi in a whimsical workshop at Marina Al Seedyat to create your own doll. Inspired by the surrealist movement, Al Blooshi will demonstrate how mundane objects can be turned into unique artworks. It's on Saturday from 9:30pm and costs Dh25 per person.

WELLNESS WKND
You have to take a bit of time to chill, don't you? So take advantage of an exclusive offer at Arqana Spa, Rixos Seedyat Island this Ramadan with complimentary upgrades on some of their signature treatments. For example, go for a 60-minute massage and you'll have a 45-minute harem bath thrown in for free.

GIVING BACK
Refugee agency UNHCR has set up an awareness activation at Ibn Battuta Mall under the theme 'Be the light for refugees'. It displays a model of a Refugee Housing Unit, and allows you to experience the journey of refugees through virtual reality devices. With greater understanding comes greater compassion.

PULSE FANCY AN IFTAR OR SUHOOR? HAVE A LOOK AT THESE

SUMO IFTAR
